The seal of the City of Victoria was handed back to Mayor Anscomb to-day, after the civic administration for 1930.

His Honor expressed the hope that Victoria would experience a successful and prosperous year, and that her counsels would be safely held by the new administration. It was the second occasion on which he had delivered the seal to Mayor Anscomb, continued Judge Lampman, and he moted this time the presence of younger men on the administration. The loss in experience should be made up in zeal, he concluded.

Mayor Anscomb replied briefly, expressing the thanks of civic officials for the good wishes extended, and declaring he had every confidence in the ability and loyalty of those elected to serve under him in the civic administration of 1930.

South African Statesman Speaks in Ottawa: Welcomed By Premier King

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—To the people of Canada, General the Rt. Hon. Jan Christian Smuts, former Prem-ler of South Africa, last night brought a message of unity.
Liberty and nationhood had been achieved by the Dominions of the British Empire, he declared. There remained another task which must be undertaken. That task was to give form and substance to the unity of that great group known as' the British Commonwealth of Nations, General Smuts, speaking at a dinner there, where he was the honored guest of three societies, was introduced by the Prime Minister of Canada. The Casadian Club of Ottawa, the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club and the League of Nations Society in Canada combined to do honor to the distinguished statesman on the occasion of his first visit to Canada. WELCOMED TO CANADA

EXAMPLE TO THE WORLD

EXAMPLE TO THE WORLD

"This great structure should become the most enduring of all time, said Ex-Premier Smuts, speaking of the British Empire "Whatever storms may blow, as they have blown in the past; whatever vicissitudes may be before us, this ship should weather the storm; this, great Commonwealth of ours should remain for all time as an example and an embodiment of human liberty, political genius and instrument of happiness, not only to us, but to the other nations of the world."

In the crusade for freedom and constitutional reform Canada had taken the lead among the Empire Dominions, said General Smuts.

CANADA'S GROWTH

Among the Dominions, not even the greatest dreamer or the most sanguine prophet to-day could visualize the future of Canada. The day is coming when this country would rank among the great powers of the world, General Smutis predicted.

The racial situation in South Africa resembled that of Canada in many predicted.

The racial situation in South Africa resembled that of Canada in many respects, he continued. "If we have reached a happy solution of that problem, it is largely due to the precedent you set. It was in Canada the great precedent upon which the British Empire was founded was worked out." DOMINION STATUS

Dominion status had proved the solution of Empire problems which stemed insolutie, General Smuts told his listeners. It now formed the basis of the British Empire. When Ireland was in rebellion, Dominion status did the trick. He told how he had been called into conference by the Irish leaders at the time when Ireland was for a republic.

ot a republic.
"I explained to them I had been Attorney-General of a republic," said he speaker, "and I was able to continue them Dominion status was better than a republic. Thus had been solved a problem which seemed impos-FUTURE OF INDIA

Empire problems. In the mousing to come, said General Smuts, India might present the greatest. Empire problem. He was not sure but that it was the greatest problem now. But he felt confident that, in the long run, with patience, time and wisdom, Dominion status would solve the problem.

He asked his hearers to think how different would be the position of any of the Dominions without all the other entities which went to make up the great commonwealth of nations. The whole was just as important as the part and now that the freedom of the parts had been achieved the duty remained of preserving and strengthening the unity of the whole. This had been fully realized at the Imperial Conference of 1925. The statesmen there had not only the freedom of the part at heart, but the unity of the whole.

General Smuts closed, with an account of country the freedom of the whole.

General Smuts closed with an appeal to Canada, which had taken the lead in so many things, again to assume the lead in the effort to Santa Monica, Cal., Jan. 3.—The placid Parific rolls gently fo-day over the watery sepulehre of seven of ten men who yesterday met a familing death 3,600 feet above the sea in catering to a public whim. The charred and shattered bodies of three are in the morgue here, where sorrowing relatives will claim them before the world forgets.

They were making a motion picture thriller. Had they succeeded, the world would never have seen or known them, for they were behind the scenes—directors, cameramen, property men and airplane pilots.

Yesterday they soared out above the sea—two plane loads of men, and cameras and equipment. They hovered over a third plane, waiting for a stunt man to drop away toward the water with his parachute.

They were to make a thrilling sequence in a story based on the mild-channel disappearance of Capt. Alfred Lowenstein, Belgian financier, from a France-to-England transport plane July 5, 1928.

BURST INTO FLAME

Suddenly the planes whipped together almost head-on. Wings splint-ground together, telescoped. Gasoline lanks burst and flared. In the winking of an eye, the combined winking of an eye, the combined to a projectile.

Three bodies were catapulted from he flame-spewing hulks during the issing plunge and fell into the water way from the volcanic spout of spray, re and smoke which marked the crash I the planes on the surface.

Within a few minutes only a thin m of oil, flattening out the white-speed wayes, bore evidence of the agedy. No more bodies appeared and far no wreckage has come to the ST OF VICTIMS

A GREAT IMPERIALIST

CANADA IS HONORED FOR THE FIRST time by a visit from General the Rt. Hon. J. C. Smuts, one of the most outstanding and scholarly statesmen in the British Empire and an eminent world figure. Few men in the realm of statecraft have played such a unique part in international affairs as this distinguished South African. Less than thirty years ago he was a soldier in the armies of the Boer republics and in the field against the armies of the empire. At the present time he is a staunch defender of British institutions and one of the most ardent opponents of any weakening of the imperial tie in the land of his birth. Canada welcomes him most heartily. Several views to which General Smuts gave expression on his arrival on this side are of more than ordinary importance at this time. He has come to ordinary importance at this time. He has come to this continent principally under the auspices of the League of Nations, and his observations with respect to the work and present standing of that organization are especially interesting. He says the League has developed along lines that were totally unforeseen by those who established it ten years ago. He compares it with a tree; the seed is planted, but there is nothing to indicate how it will grow. General Smuts is convinced, however, that "its greatest value has lain in the fact that it provides a forum in which the representatives of the nations can sit around the table and discuss their problems. More than that, it makes this practice habitual, and once you get people talking about their troubles around a table, then the

The implicit faith General Smuts obviously has the League's influence on the progress of the world at large is reflected in his candid statement that there would be no more great wars. "You will be dead, and I shall be dead," he said to the group of newspapermen to whom he spoke, "and still there will be no war. Even the Boer War, in which I had so great an interest, would be impossible to-day."
The distinguished visitor conceded there would be strife and contention, such as at present is harassing China; but in his opinion these comparatively minor troubles will not involve other nations.

troubles will not involve other nations.

General Smuts apparently has little patience with that fast-dwindling school of thought which regards the League of Nations as "an ideal which was suddenly conjured out of the clouds." On the contrary, he reminds us that the basis of the League was the British Empire, while the imperial conferences that have been held since the 'eighties were the foundations upon which its founders built. It was a plan of plain talk, face to face, and he felt that the League, by adopting that method, had well justified its ten years' work.

Of special interest, of course, was the reference of General Smuts to the growing up of the countries of the British Empire, the attainment of these various countries to a state of equal partnership in the Commonwealth. What has taken place in South Africa' since the Act of Union is best illustrated by his frank statement that "in South Africa secession is a dead issue." He amplified this as follows:

I fought election after election against that issue I fought election after election against that issue and now it is dead. The great thing was that the people did not understand what had taken place at Versailles. They still had in mind that idea of "colomal status." They wanted, in South Africa, out and out secession. But when it was shown they now enjoyed all the elements of independence, based upon a common loyalty with the rest of the empire to the sovereign, they saw they had all that could be reasonably and properly demanded. Thus, the issue of secession passed out of the picture.

General Smuts paid a tribute to the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and to Sir Robert Borden for the lead they had given the empire in matters of constitutional of course, were important contributions towards the attainment of the co-operative ideal which recognized freedom of action, and which had produced a united and contented whole with loyalty to the sovereign. By this process of decentralization in control, the empire's strength and influence had been increased, and would endure under the equal partnership system.

THE BATTLE OF TORONTO

TORONTO HAS JUST EMERGED FROM one of the most spirited municipal battles in its history. The fight was over a proposal to spend $19,000,000 over a period of years on street improvements in what is known as the down-town sec-A bylaw was submitted to the taxpayers at the annual civic elections on New Year's Day. In one of the biggest votes ever recorded, the proposal was defeated by a small margin. Mayor McBride, seeking re-election, sponsored the plan and went down to defeat. Mr. Wemp, his chief opponent, who was hostile to the plan, topped the poll.

All the daily newspapers of Toronto entered the contest and used every conceivable argument in word and picture one way or the other. Labor organizations, public and semi-public bodies, and the taxpayers as a whole also participated in the battle in a vigorous style. It seems fairly obvious at this distance that the scheme met defeat because of its aptance that the scheme met defeat because of its apparent sectional nature. Two of the daily newspapers, whose premises would have been better served by improvements suggested—The Star and The Mail and Empire—campaigned in favor of the bylaw's passage, although on broad civic grounds. The Globe and The Telegram, not so directly involved, took the other side. The battle was a merry one between these other side. The battle was a merry one between these influential journals, with honors by no means one-sided, since very nearly complete returns show a difference of only about 2,000 votes between them, with approximately 54,000 ballots cast.

The battle of the newspapers, however, was only a small part of the general engagement. Labor took a particularly active share in the fray. Those who favored the scheme as submitted in the bylaw held favored the scheme as submitted in the bylaw held out the prospect of many years of steady employment. Opponents argued that other more urgently needed improvements in various parts of the city would provide just as much work.

The cost of the proposed undertaking also furnished abundant material for argument. Its advocates stuck to the figure of $19,000,000 for the expenditure of which the bylaw sought authority from the taxpayers. The hostile forces called this a starter, the sum that would have to be borrowed, and that when the job was finished $40,000,000 would have to be paid back. This was the battle between the $19,000,000 forces and the $40,000,000 forces. Supporters of the plan garnished their contentions

Supporters of the plan garnished their contentions in numerous slogans. "Faith in Toronto's Fuwith numerous slogans. "Faith in Toronto's Fu-ture" and other clarion calls to the progressive spirit in turn were embellished with glowing recitals of the strides the city had made in the last few years, all because of the vision, the building for the days to come, which had been displayed by courageous citicome, which had been asplayed by courageous chi-zens, private business, and great organizations. The opposition forces were not to be gainsaid. If there was to be such a large outlay of public funds, it was not right that it should all be expended in a part of the city they considered was not as much, or at least not any more, in need of it than several

We do not suppose anything we might say will be any consolation to those Torontonians who were disappointed with the result of the taxpayers' decision on Wednesday. We shall surmise, however, that a city occupying such an imposing position, commer-cially and socially, in the great province of Ontario will find some way in the not-distant future of overcoming a condition which the sponsors of the defeated bylaw contend should be dealt with.

A PRISON WITHOUT BARS

BRUCE CATTON, A WELL-KNOWN writer of Cleveland, Ohio, remarks that in the province of Ontario there is a prison the like of which cannot be found anywhere in the United States. It is a prison without any walls or barred windows; a prison where no guard carries a gun or a club, where any prisoner could escape at any time simply by walking away.

It includes in its list of prisoners some of Canada's most "dangerous" men — there are, for instance, more than 100 criminally insane lifers kept there. Yet it is conducted without any trouble. It has never had a riot or anything approaching one. It has never had a riot or anything approaching one. It keeps its 700 convicts and has an average of only two escapes a year. Not one of its supposedly desperate lifers has tried to escape.

This, Mr. Catton points out, contrasts so amazingly with most prisons south of the international border—with Auburn, Dannemora and Canon City, for instance—that it is worth a good bit of con-

The prison is located at Guelph, and it was instituted a quarter of a century ago by Dr. Fred Leonard, who had been a warden of the Ohio State Reformatory, but whose plans for conducting a prison were "too idealistic and visionary" for the hard-headed Ohioans.

It is handled along very simple lines.

There are 950 acres of prison land, divided into farms, dairies and orchards. In addition there are woolen mills, a cannery, a woodworking factory, a bed factory and a quarry, all operated by the

Thus there is a full-time job for every man in the prison. There is no dreary idleness. Every man is kept busy. Every man is busted. Every man has a good place to sleep and good food to eat.

Every man, in short, is treated as though he were a decent human being. And—let those who object to the "coddling" of prisoners consider this—every man responds to this sort of treatment. There are no riots. There is no discontent. There are no more escapes than there are in the average heavily-barred and heavily-guarded prison in the United States.

States.

Most important of all, no prisoner staying there comes to feel that society is his oppressor, his enemy.
There is, in Mr. Catton's opinion, a great lesson in that Ontario prison for the authorities south of the border; a lesson for the authorities, and a lesson for the rest of the public as well.

TREES FOR THE HIGHWAYS

The London Advertiber

There will be many who will speak in behalf of the maple when it comes to a question of providing shade. It will be pointed out that maples grow more rapidly than nut trees, and their leaves bud earlier and stay on the tree later in the autumn, if any country cares to plant maple trees along its chief highways, it is safe to say there will be no objections. But with Eigip's aelection of nut trees there will be no quarrel, and that county is to be commended for being among the first to take action on the highway tree-planting idea. The roads of the province are by no means treeless. In fact there are long stretches of magnificent shade from elms, oaks and maples planted by far-sighted pioneers half a century and more ago. It remains only to fill the gape, and provide trees along the newer pavements. It is a task to which every municipality should lend a willing hand.

Big business achieves another signal triumph—Mayor Walker unfolds a noble ideal, which should inspire our City Hall —and a reason for the talkies is found at last.

Perhaps it will even inspire our City Hall to some such rousing action, and so increase the spending power of the City Council that a new era of prosperity will dawn in our midst. But I fear not. TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, JANUARY 3, 1905

The year nineteen hundred and five is an established fact. Nearly three days have passed since it was ushered in, and the world is still doing business at the old stand. It can safely be said that seldom, if ever, has there been a noiser New Year demonstration in Victoria.

The police returns, on which Jailer Allen has been industric raiged for the last five days, are practically ready and will be emitthe report to be submitted by Chief Langley to the Police Commin the near future.

Chief Engineer Mitchell, of the steamer Princess Victoria, on New Year's Eve formally severed his connection with the CPR. Company to take up his new duties pertaining to the position of Lloyd's representa-tive in British Columbia.

E. Brain, of the mechanical staff of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, has been in the city introducing his patent automatic switch. This invention, which is proving popular in street railway systems, is worked by the motorman without his cultting his piace on the car.

The Provincial junior rugby championship was won by Victoria it a match with the Vancouver fifteer yesterday afternoon at Oak Bay It was captured by a score of 11 points to nil, the Victorians demonstrating superiority over their rivais in every division of the game.

POWERE to PAYROLL BU

THE Vancouver Stock Exchange is the machinery which converts capital into mining, oil and industrial enterprises employing Western Canada labor. When investors buy listed stocks, their purchase represents machinery and equipment, sinking of shafts, building of roads and camps, busy smelters, factories, payrolls. The result of such activity is the development of natural resources, the creation of new wealth; with consequent stimulation to trade and the establishment of thriving wholesale houses, retail stores, farms, prosperous workmen.

capital in this province of $120,000,000, spends vast sums on fuel, equipment and provisions, pays annually in wages $30,000,000 and employs 18,000 workmen.

What part does the Vancouver Stock Exchange play in this activity, this enlarging of our payrolls?

The Exchange, like similar institutions in London, New York and Montreal, provides a ready market for securities of value. This encourages the investor to participate in those meritorious enterprises that have contributed to the development of British Columbia and the expansion of her industrial payroll. If there was no such market available, investors would be reluctant to place funds in securities which would remain "frozen." The day to day activity of this market represents the public's desire to buy and to sell securities, and keeps every investor posted as to the cash value of his holdings and the success of the industries those holdings represent.

The Stock Exchange requires that every stock listed on the Exchange be scrutinized as to capitalization, reputation of directors of the company, soundness of the enterprise. Every stock is subject to immediate removal from the listings should such action best serve the investors.

Through the activities of members of the Exchange, British Columbia's investment opportunities are advertised, world-wide interest of capital aroused.

This is the part which the Vancouver Stock Exchange plays in creating confidence and in diverting the flood tide of capital to British. Columbia enterprises. The Exchange is a powerful force in increasing your prosperity, in building payrolls.

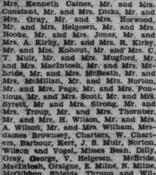

This advertisement is published by Members of the Vancouver Stock Exchange in order to dissem information concerning the functions of a Stock Exchange and the Business of Buying and Selling Securities.

King Edward's Courage In Final Illness Is Told in Dorset Book

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times London, Jan. 3.—The "Dorest Year Book," published by the Society of Dorest Men in London, contains stories of king Edward's courage. The author refers to some reminiscences which Sir Frederick Treves, the famous surgeon wrote, but never published.

"The material about King Edward's operation alone showed him as a great figure of courage, a man who fought his doctors to go to his Coronation and so keep faith with the British people." writes Mr. Flower. "King Edward had hidden his malady in order that the public should not be alarmed. The doctors and nurses went to Windsor public should not be alarmed. The dectors and nurses went to Windsor, numbered, and not named, so that the arrival of these medical people should not be known. Treves was 'No. 6.' He used to go to Windson. used to go to Windsor in a tweed cap and a tweed suit, and get off at the station before Windsor, and walk the rest of the way. These were the in-structions of the King to spare his people an lota of anxiety regarding the Coronation."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S BED

Another story relates to the girlhood Queen Victoria. "At the age of about fourteen Queen Victoria came with her mother, the Duchess of Kent, to the Royal Hotel in Meymouth, Dorset, for a short visit, and every morning after her breakfast she was brought into her bedroom to help shake and make her own bed for exercise. The bed was made of goose exercise. The bed was made of goose down, and the bedstead was called a 'tent bed.' The handings were of green and white silk'. My mother, who was a year older than the Queen, was serving maid at the hotel, and was chosen to help her, and she used to say: 'Benddown, little maid,' and would then throw the bed right over my mother. Another very funny incident happened. As the duchess and the Queen were coming down the stairs to go for their morning walk they met the charmorning walk they met the char-woman, and she, being very nervous, said to the duchess with a curtsey to every word: 'Oh, good morning, lady, your duchess, your mam, how's your duke to-day?' she knowing that he was dead."

Ballerina's Book Of Her Memories Mildly Shocking

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times London, Jan. 3 .- "When I am not in love I look stale."

Thus Mme Lydia Kyasht, the preniera ballerina, in her amusing, un-conventional, and at times mildly hocking book of reminiscences, pullshed by Brentano under the title "Romantic Recollections."

The dancer deals with Royal person-ges in a manner that will seem to some of her readers irreverent. She ders that the best-looking men are to be found in Vienna, while the Americans are the most direct in their leve-making. Some women do not care for "direct" love-making, but it appears to hold no terrors for madame. Under the heading of romantic recol-Under the heading of romantic recol-lections she cannot very well place her first meal with her future husband, for it consisted of semolina pudding. WHEN KING EDWARD SLEPT

There are serious things in the book well, even some horrible things; these having to do with the atroci crueity shown to their victims by the Bolsheviks. Her pen-picture of Rasputin is one of the most unflattering that has been given, as far as the physical side is concerned. But she is by no means certain that he could not perform miracles of healing. perform miracles of healing. So great was the belief of the Czarina in the "monk" that she felt certain he could raise the dead to life.

Mme. Kyasht's dancing was greatly admired by King Edward, and with

MISS ENGLAND II. TO SEEK RECORD

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, Jan. 3.—Details of Sir Henry Segrave's attempt on water to win back the British International Trophy from the United States and to set up a new world record at Detroit next year were made known this week.
Work has been started at Cowes on Sir Charles Wakefield's new challenger, Miss England II. The boat has been designed by Fred Gooper in collaboration with Sir Henry Segrave, and will be equipped with two Rolls Royce engines developing 4,000 hp. "The boat should be completed and launched next May. It will be tried out on LakeWindermere. We hope a speed in excess of 100 miles an hour will be attained for the first time on water," said Sir Henry in an interview, "Whatever happens in the British International Trophy attempt at Detroit we shall try immediately afterwards to establish a world's record."

WATER SPEED TROPHY

WATER SPEED TROPHY

The British International Trophy is the "blue riband" of the speed world on water. It was won by the United States in 1919, and has since been held by that country, Several attempts have been made to regain the trophy by this country, including two efforts by Miss Carstairs, the noted weman motor-boat racer. Miss England II's engines will be of the Rolis Royce type used in the Schneider Trophy seropianes, special permission having been given by the Air Council to Sir Henry Segrave to use them. Seven boats have been entered for the contest, including one by Miss Carstairs, an Italian boat and four American boats.

BOMB KILLS ONE AND HURTS EIGHT PERSONS

Infernal Machine Sent as Christmas Gift in Maryland

Seat Pleasant, Maryland, Jan, 3.—A deadly bomb in the gay and innocent guise of a belated Christmas gift brought swift death to a young wife and severe injuries to a group of relatives who had gathered for a family New Year party, and left but scant clues for the guidance, of the police, searching to-day for some trace of the perpetrator.

searching to-day for some trace perpetrator.

The woman killed was Mrs. Naomi Hall Brady, eighteen, married last June to Herman Brady, wenty-two, a farmer of Mitcheliville. The injured number eight, and include her mother, Mrs. John Hall, who is expected to recover, her grandmother, at brothers and sisters, three of—whom are in a serious condition and the son of a neighbor, whose hurts were slight.

DIED IN HOSPITAL.

The tragedy took place shortly after breakfast. The package was delivered to the Hall home by Leale Hall who is now in a serious condition, and by the neighbor's son, and Mrs. Brady eagerly tore off the yulettde wrapper while members of the family clustered closely about her. Suddenly it exploded. Mrs. Brady died twenty minutes after being received at a Washington hospital.

The explosion was heard for some distance, and neighbors came quickly to the scene. The injured were rushed to hospitals in Washington, a few miles away.

The bomb is believed to have con-tained dynamite, with which had been packed nails and pieces of metal. Bits of the wrapping paper were found in the wreckage of the Hall home, which was badly damaged, but these, the police said, were of little assistance in running down the responsible person.

NEW DISEASE KILLS CHILDREN OF REFUGEES

Mennonites in Germany From Russia Suffer Unusual

Hammerstein, Germany, Jan. 3.—A strange disease that has broken out among German Mennonite refugees from Russia encamped here has caused the deaths of forty children.

Fity other children are ill from the disease, which has baffled physicians. Despite strict sanitary measures, the epidemic apread because many mothers hid their sick children and prayed over them, in accordance with the Mennonite beiter, instead of retting them have medical attention.

TO PREVENT SPREAD

The authorities have quarantined the refugees camp and ordered immediate examination of all the children to prevent spread of disease.

The Mennonite refugees arrived in Germany from Russia a little more than a month ago, and have since been housed in concentration camps. The German Government negotiated with the Moscow authorities to secure their right to emigrate. They had gone to Russia as settlers.

Rum Craft Said To Use Radio Now

Los Angeles, Jan 3.—Charges that radio messages, in secret code, were being used by rum smuggling ships of the southern California coast to receive orders and warnings from their alleged owners in Canada were made by the Government yesterday in prosecuting a libel suit against the seized cruiser Chiquita.

THESE BATHING SUGGESTIONS

Did it ever occur to you that the baby's objection to bathing (if he does object) might be due to the discomferts connected with the process? Of course you must be careful that the water is neither too hot nor too cold that you do not pinch him or poke him in handling during the bath, and yet.

Some babies don't like the feel of sinking into water, and some resens the shock of heling put down on the hard surface of the tub. Mrs. A. F. NEW FORD OWNERS

... this hint may save you trouble:

Your "Model A" will stand up better, run smoother, if you avoid oils that form quantities of hard carbon

I' is almost unbelievable what these new Model A Fords will stand. They'll even stand abuse! But you probably didn't buy yours to abuse. You wanted its speed, its economy of upkeep, long life, smooth running.

And it is to help you to get these things that we urge you to watch your lubrication.

Particularly, your motor oil: Many otherwise good oils form layers of hard, gritty carbon inside your motor. This sort of carbon chips off and chafes up and down the cylinder walls. Bits of it get under valves and hold them open to waste power and to burn the valve stems. Hard carbon starts a regular chain of troubles that shorten the life of any car.

To escape hard carbon you simply choose an oil that leaves none. Shell Motor Oil, when it burns, forms only a little soft soot—fluffy and light—a kind of carbon that can blow harmlessly away with the exhaust gases.

Insist that Shell Motor Oil be used to refill your Ford crankcase. You have a right to all the extra miles your car can giveand you'll get them with this fine lubricant that protects you from the hard carbon menace.

Downtrodden Teams In N.H.L. Commence To Bare Their Fangs

With such stalemate corditions ex-

With such stalemate corditions existing among the world's neavy-weights now is the time for every good fight manager to go out and look for another Jack Dempsey. We admit it would be hard to find such another fighter as Jack, but he would certainly be worth looking for. Now, if ever, is the time for some young fighter with row fists and the ambilition to use them to step out and corral that wealth and glory that go with the viyweight championship.

In every section of the United States and in many parts of Canada fight managers are looking around for a young heavyweight who can lunge forward instead of backward, who is not afraid to take punishment, who has the tiger instinct and who can hang a sleep producer on the chin of the other fellow. Some of them have found the man they think stacks up for the job. Jim Jeffries, the great old warrior, former heavyweight champion of the world and the man who conquered 30b Fitzsimmons, is taking an active part in the search. Behind closed doors on his ranch at Burbank, Calif., Jeff is grooming a young giant, Albert Morro, for the lask.

Another Pacific Coast boy who is being coached along for greater things is Frankie Campbell, of Los Angeles. He is highly regarded by Jack Dempsey as a great fighting prospect. Campbell has a style similar to that of Dempsey. He punches hard with doth fists from a crouch. He is serious about fighting and has hung up quite a string of knockouts. There is a posibility that he may become a champion.

Jack Kearns, who steered Dempsey to the top, has one or two likely prospects under his wing and will make his bid one of these days. Billy Gibson who handled the dastinies of Gene Tunney, is giving a lot of attention to a young heavyweight in which be sees posibilities. His name is Joe Barlow and Gibson has worlds of patience with him. A syndicate of Gleveland investors has pooled $10.000 to buy the managerial rights of a heavily muscled young man named Prankie Simms.

Prom all sides comes the same cry of disgust from the fans at the way the once frest heavyweight division has deteriorated. The big fellows of to-day are as uninteresting as they are big. Foreign faces have been crowding into the picture but there doesn't appear to be a real fighter in the lot. And now Jack Sharkey says he won't fight Tuffy Griffiths at Miami next month. The Boston Gob declares Griffiths has no right to the fight and that he wouldn't draw a gate. And yet the Sloux City youngster is a real slugger, the type the fans like and he has beaten Paolino and Risko, two tough ones. Maybe Mr. Sharkey is a little frightenes.

Shawkey Will Have Carter to Make OUT AFFER VARSITY Now all the talk is about the Mc Kechnie Cup game to-morrow after-noon between the University of British Columbia and Victoria. It's going to be some stable, and, it is expected that close to 3,000 spectators will be there to see the speed and dash of these two fast young teams. In former years when Victoria believed in sticking to names that had long been connected with rugby here, the capitals played some hot games with Varsity, but usually in the second half the home team cracked through lack of condition, and the collegians romped through. But Victoria will not shoot a poorly conditioned team on the field on Saturday. It will be fit to go the full distance, and Varsity will no doubt have the toughtest assignment they have ever had in this city. It is a long time since the capitals have scored a win over Varsity in Victoria. LOTS OF PLAYERS

The young ruggers in victoria think more of catching a place on the "rep" team than they do of getting their breakfast. The capital can field two good McKecanie Cup teams, and the selection committee has a tough time selection committee has a tough time sorting out the players and plaking the best man for each position.

Criss, Who Was to Meet Shires, Alleged to Have Been Asked to "Take a Dive"

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 3.-Arthur (The Great) Shires, White Sox socker, and a lad who might be heavyweight champion if he were half as good as he is reported to have said he is, is under suspen-sion by the Michigan Boxing Commission. The charge, which Shires denies indignantly, is that his representatives sought to have Shires's opponent in a scheduled fight here take a "dive."

flight here take a "dive."

The commission acted yesterday after receiving a statement from Vance Gildersleeve, manager of Battling Criss (who was to have been Shires's opponent) in which Gildersleeve said Shires's representative told him Criss would not go through with the fight. The bout, which was to have taken place last night, was called off when physicians of the commission found Shires was suffering from a severe cold.

Scoffs AT IDEA

Shires pooh-poohed the idea that anyone representing him would suggest that "Battling Criss" dive.
"If anyone approached Criss, he did so without my knowledge," said Shires." I can flatten Criss on the level and I wasn't worrying about him. I've got a stiff neck and a heavy cold, and the commission's physician, Dr. Keane, told the I was in no condition to fight at this time."

the I was in no condition to fight at this time."

Shires will not be permitted to go through with scheduled fights at Plint, Jackson and Grand Rapids, James M. Brown, chairman of the boxing commission, said. The suspension also will be reported to the National Box-ling Association, which will be asked to suspend him in the thirty-one states it governs. "We are satisfied," Commissioner Brown said, "that Shires does not belong in the boxing game."

Chicago, Jam. 3.—George Trafton, conqueror of Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires in their recent fiveround boxing engagement, leaped to-day to the defence of the great one, who has been suspended by the Michigan Boxing Commission.

"I don't believe Art naked anyone to take a dive." Trafton said. "He did not ask me to dive, and stood up like a major and took a beating. If this Criss really thinks Agi ran out, on him, he don't need to wafe until Art gets well for a fight. I'll fight him my-

ST. CATHARINES'
POPULAR SPORTSMAN

Just eighteen years ago, a young fellow went to St. Catharines, Ont., from New Haven, Conn., to play haseball and work. He did such a good job of handling the slants of hurlers that he continued as the first-string catcher of his plant's team until two years ago, when his position as plant superintendent forced his retirement. To-day, under forty, he is still a "receiver" but now it is the homage and co-operation of over 1,500 employees of the St. Catharines (Nama, Victoria 1 McColdrick, Portland 2 Mylant of the General Motors of Canada, of which he is president. Handling baseballs gave him a slant on their make-up, so it is fitting that he should be general manager of a plant at Buffalo which manufactures the official that he his president. Presiding is the best thing he does, as proxy of the Garden City of Canada, a truck transport concern, director of a dozen oganizations and prominent in all civic welfare development in the Garden City of Canada, as a matter of fact, the hopes of that city lie in the fact that he is the one man whom they hope to be Santa Claus in 1930 for the first artificial arena in their history. Score 11-5 Victory In Third Division Match of Lower Island Badminton League

Langford Leghorns were the vic-tors over the Y.M.C.A. in a third division badminton league match last evening at Langford, where the nome team chalked up a 11-5 victory. The Y.M.C.A. players, accustomed to a rough surfaced floor, found the footing at the Langford hall somewhat slippery after the New Year's celebrations and could hardly stand on their feet.

At the commencement of the match the Langford ladies did not enjoy much of an advantage, as the visitors won two of the four fixtures. Langford men practically cinched the match when they won all four men's doubles and made the score 6-2 with only eight matches to play. In the mixed doubles they took five of the eight games, but got quite a scare at the beginning, when their best pair, Mr. and Mrs. Le Quesne, went down to defeat for the first time this season to Miss Campbell and Witter of the "Y" squad. The latter pair also won their second match from Mr. and Mrs. Bayles. Mrs. Sparks and Pennington were tips winners of the closest match of the night when

Portland, Ore., Jan. 3 .- Portland's steady drive to-day earried the Bucks to second place in the standings of the Pacific Coast Hockey League and within two and a half games of the league-leading Vancouver Lions, 1-0 victims in last night's contest.

The Lions' roar became a purr shortly after the opening gun of last night's game on the Coliseum ice here and the northerners, observing that they faced an entirely new fast-breaking, combination-playing aggregation of Buckaroos, settled down to the serious business of warding off a never-ending attack with their goal the objective. Not that the Lions themselves did not try. Their counter sorties carried them into Portland territory requently, but they lacked the punch and accuracy the locals

Vancouver held the fort successfully until exactly thirteen minutes and, fifty-one seconds of the third and last period had sped by. At that moment Joe McGoldrick, the old-timer of ice hockey in the Pacific northwest and stellar Buck defence stick swinger, dented the net with a shot that even the plert Vancouver goalle, Percy Jack-17 son, failed to see. The play caught of largely with the assistance of Red Conn, Portland captain.

17 BLOCKS GOALIE'S VIEW

The game was replete with thrills, major penalties and furious grating. Referee Mickey Ion was forced to extend himself in handing out penalties, four of the more grievous classification having been assessed in half that many periods.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Recording conditions and progress in the commercial and financial structure of Sanada during 1929. The Toronto Globe this morning in a special devoted to its annual financial review, introduced a theme of future prosperity through the development of empire commerce and features messages from the Prime Ministers of each of Canada's nine provinces.

Hon, Peter C. Larkin, High Commissioner of Canada, in Great Britain; Right Hon, J. H. Thomas, Lord Privy Seal and Minister of Employment in the British Government, and Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce for Canada, tell of mutual benefits that will accrue from encouragement of empire commerce, and of the extension of trade channels.

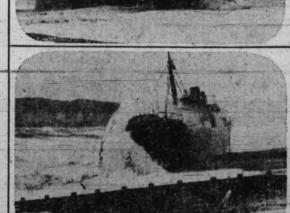

So far as Canada's trade with Britain alone is concerned, writes Mr. Larkin, the field is a wide one. Canada's industrial expansion during the past year, he says, is a source of inspiration not only to Canadians themsels, but to the whole empire.

Larkin, the field is a wide one. Canada's industrial expansion during the past year, he says, is a source of Inspiration not only to Canadians temsels, but to the whole empire.

The imperial factor, he writes, is beginning to have an effect on the commercial, industrial, political and social works in the Old Country, and the development can not but react to the good of Canada, whose goods are estabilishing a firm market for themselves in Britain, and whose huge potentialities are attracting not only capital but the equally important personal attention of leading industrialists.

Currant jelly is traditional with venison. It is often used for basting a roast and is added to delicious sauce to serve with steak. After a roast of venison has been in a hot oven for half an hour, the heat should be reduced and the time calculated from this point. Allow about twenty minutes to the pound. Thus a four-pound roast would need one hour and fifty minutes

WOODWARD AT TRADES COUNCIL ON BUS DISPUTE

Answers Criticism That He Has Been Unfair to Organized Labor

Subject of Busses Open For Further Discussion After Four-hour Debate

The position of organized labor in regard to competitive bus lines was discussed by the Trades and Labor Council last night, with Sam Howard in the chair.

Howard in the chair.

Every phase of the present dispute was discussed, and an explanation of the City Council's stand heard from Riderman E. S. Woodward. After close on four hours of discussion the meeting adjourned without action taken, leaving the question open to be further discussed at a subsequent meeting. Heated discussion followed the reading of a letter from Capital Division. N. 109 of the Street Bailwaynen's Union, criticizing the attitude of Alderman Woodward at the recent drafting of the by-law affecting bus service to Oak Bay. The alderman's attitude had been unfair to organized labor, it was asserted, in that it appeared to support a non-union organization in opposition to the interest of the B.C.E.R. Company Limited. Delegates Torrance and Casey spoke in support of the letter from the Street Railwaymen and invited an explanation from Alderman Woodward.

ALDERMAN WOODWARD HEARD

Woodward.

Alderman Woodward who is secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, explained his stand on the bus line dispute as one not affecting union or non-union principles but the interests of the citizens as a whole.

"The City Council," he said, "was informed that the Oak Bay Council, the Blue Line and the B.C. Electric Railway had reached an agreement concerning a bus service to Oak Bay, as a result of repeated complaints regarding transportation facilities from residents in the municipality.

"The city solicitor was accordingly instructed to draw up a by-law, defining the route which the busses were to take. After the by-law had-been framed the B.C. Electric Company asked for a change which involved the employment of negative, instead of positive, phraseology in this definition, and which practically threw open all streets to busses which were not required by the B.C. Electric Railway.
"I strongly opposed this change, since I considered that the city should retain entire control of its streets. With regard to the complaints made about the street car service to Oak Bay, I submit that it is not a question of frequency of, service, but rather of the narrow-ares covered by the No. I car, "As an alderman, I should like to sak you whether we should consider only wages and conditions, irrespective of the service rendered to the public. Personally, I have no hestation in saying the sayin

After the explanation, the action of Alderman Woodward at the City Council meeting was endorsed by a vote of the meeting was endorsed by a vote of eil meeting was endorsed by a vote of the meeting.

Considerable discussion followed as to the attitude of transportation companies towards organized labor. A number of reports were given, and data read as to the percentage of-union-employees in various services. Wage scales also came in for discussion.

Reverting to the question of the stand to be taken by the Trades and Labor Council in the bus lines dispute, the meeting voted to abstain from forcing an issue, since the opinion of its own members appeared to be divided. The subject was left over for further discussion at a future date.

plate wheat moving freely. Domestic cash trade quiet.

A moderate decrease in visible stocks is indicated for the week. Australian reports confirm disappointing yields. We are of the opinion that the world wheat situation is gradually strengthenive, but will take big clearances to crystallize bullish sentiment. However, prefer to work conservatively on the buying side.

Corn: Corn market was heavy most of the day, the cash basis was unchanged to 3 higher, there being less pressure on the low grades. Country asles were nothing.

The cash demaild was fair with sales of $7000 bushels, sales to store 25,000 bushels. The weather conditions were a little cooler over the belt, with not much precipitation.

AGAINST SELLING GOOD STOCKS

New York, Jan. 3.—Advice against the sels of sound stocks is being given by the Brookmire Economic Service, Inc. in its latest report which points out that the low prices reached in November were the result of panic selling and more than discounted the business recession which has taken place and any further business decline which may follow from here.

"From the long term point of view," says Brookmire, "the situation is favorable." The peak in money rates has been passed. It is impossible, to fell that a peak is being formed until several months after the event. Present indications are that the twelve months' running average of commercial paper rates will turn downward in January, indicating that the high rates of September were the actual top of the upward movement which had begun in February, 1928.

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—A report that Hon.

T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and Canals, would also become Minister of Immigration on his return to Parliament, was referred to yesterday by Premier King.

"I have made no announcement of the kind," said the Prime Minister, "It is just possible Mr. Crerar may be made Acting Minister of Immigration in addition to Being Minister of Railways after he bas been returned to Parliament. This might occur should the portfolio of immigration not be filled meanwhile and Mr. Motherwell not be well emough to resume his duties as Minister of Agriculture, as Mr. Stewart is at present Acting Minister of Immigration and Agriculture in addition to maintaining his own office as Minister of the Interior, which is a rather heavy task."

A Fundamental Distinction

To distinguish between speculation and investment is an essential safeguard in the employment of money. Speculation aims at a vast increase of capital with attendant risk; but investment seeks mainly to conserve capital and to insure normal income from it. A confusion of these divergent purposes prohibits financial progress.

As investment bankers we are in a position to recommend securities worthy of the investment of your surplus funds. Royal Financial Corp. Ltd.

authorities sufficiently ironed out to get the testimony of the coastguard crew. Heltzen said he intended to confer with Henry M. Boss, United States district attorney, at Providence to-day, and if unable to get the information he sought he would telegraph to the Treasury Department at Washington immediately. He explained the Treasury Department was in charge of the coastguard investigation from the federal angle.

Dorothy Dix "Children, Have a Heart; Consider Your Father And Mother and All They Have Done for

And

Cinders-

You and Give Them a Break—Don't Take.
All and Give Nothing," Pleads Dorothy Dix

"HILDREN, be just to your parents. Give them some sort of a run for their money. Don't make them feel, when they look at you, that rearing a child comes nearer to being a total loss than any other job to which a man and woman can put their hearts and their hands.

Granted that the obligation of a parent to a child to a parent, still that does not let the child go scot-free and accord it the right to take everything it can get out of its father and mother and give nothing in return. There are debts of honor that are all the more binding on us because those to whom we owe them cannot force us to pay them. They must be a free-will offering that we tender in the coin of love and appreciation and gratitude.

Heaven, has mercifully or-

Heaven has mercifully ordained that the average father and mother never sit down and calmly and dispassionately audit their books with their children.
If they did, most of them would find out that parenthood, so far as getting any dividends is concerned, is a poor investment of time and labor ar all the profit they have got out of it is what own love for the child.

For twenty or twenty-five years, maybe more, father has worked harder than any slave to support Bobbie and Sadle and Mamle and Tommy and to give them luxuries he has never had. He has sweltered through hot summers at his office that they might so to the mountains or the seashore. He has gone, shabby that they might have sport clothes and cars and the things the other boys and girls had. He has taken on extra work and grown mere hump-shouldered to send them to college and give them a better chance in life than he had.

Mother's life has been an endless sacrifice laid on the alter of her children. She has never known a night's unbroken rest since her first haby was born, because after she quit getting up to cover little restless sleepers she began lying awake listening for the return of roaming boys and girls. She has walked more miles after toddling little feet than any champion pedestrian has to his record.

She has watched endless hours by sickbeds. She has fried herself to a frizzle over the cookstove making the kind of cakes that Janie loves and the crullers that Bobble craves. She has at up nights patching and darning and mending and making frills for the girls and washing out their silk undies and stockings. She has gone without a new dress that Mamle might have pink satin dancing slippers. She has never been too tired or too sick to answer the call of "M-o-t-h-e-r."

And what do these parents get from their children in return for all of this devotion? Nine-times out of ten they get contempt, when it isn't patronage, and practically always utter indifference. The children take all of the sacrifices their parents have made for them as no more than their due, and never dream of so much as saying "Thank you." To find a boy and girl who really appreciate their parents and are grateful to them is as rare as finding a full and complete set of hen's teeth, upper and lower.

Generally the children think their parents so old fogey and such back numbers that they scorn their opinions on every subject and they consider father and mother such dull company that they would simply curl up and die with boredom if they had to spend an hour in their society. Probably there are not a hundred homes in the length and breadth of the land where the grown-up sons and daughters ever voluntarily spend an evening at home, or make any effort to entertain and amuse father and mother and brighten up life for them.

father may have spent thousands of dollars upon Mary's musical edu-Father may have spent thousands of dollars upon Mary's musted education, but does she ever sit down and play for him the old tunes that he loves? Never. Johu's high-priced education has made him a cultured man of the world and abroad he has the reputation of being an entertaining talker and the life of the party, but do father and mother ever derive any benefit from it? Nay verily. Mary and John don't feel that they have to waste their accomplishments on mere parents, even if father and mother did pinch and economize and do without the things they wanted in order to pay for them.

Children show the same disregard for their parents' rights in the way they order their lives. They never seem to think that if their parents have supported them until they have reached maturity the least they can do after that is to make their own living and give the old people a chance to spend a little of their money on themselves and have a few of the things they have always craved but never could have because everything had to go to the children.

In half the families you know there is a lazy or temperamental son or daughter who is too tired to work, or who never can find the ideal job that is all pay and no labor and full of thrills, and who loafs while poor old father and mother toil to give him or her three square meals a day and clothes and spending money.

Nor do children ever consider their parents in their matrimonial differences, although in the end father and mother are the goats in most divorces. Mary and Tom are loud in their protestations that marriage is their own affair and one in which father and mother have no right to interfere, but when the marriage goes bloosy it is father's and mother's affair with a vengeance, for daughter not only comes back to be taken care of but brings with her a brood of children.

Many and many an old couple, whose small savings would have made their old age comfortable, are reduced to penury and have their last days made hard and laborious by having to rear and feed and clothe and educate the children of a divorced son and daughter.

For apparently it does not occur to Mary that she had better put up with a few matrimonial disillusions and unpleasantness than to inflict fresh burdens on her poor old parents, or to John that it is better for him to endure the nagging of a wife than it is for him to spoil the peace and happiness of his father's and mother's old are.

So that is why I say: Children, have a heart. Consider your father and mother and all that they have done for you and give them a break. Don't take everything and give nothing.
